OUTLINES.

Within ten days three negroe been lynched in South Carolina, Spain, a North Carolina negro, ha been strung up and riddled with l lets yesterday in Dorchester county. ——The insurrection in Cuba is said to be assuming grave proportions, although the government at Havana is sending out troops and is confident of restoring order; yesterday morning rural guards killed the boldest insurgent general Quentin Bandera, a negro, and two of his lieutenants, a circumstance which leads the government to believe that the death blow has been given to the insurrection; Insurgent Guerra yesterday captured another town; the Cuban government has requested the United States to send eight machine guns and American artillerymen to man them.——The railroads and steamship lines south of the Potomac and east of the Mississippi have agreed to faithfully obey the Hepburn railway rate bill.——At Kansas City yesterday a flood washed out a cemetery and exposed 200 corpses to view.——In New York yesterday cotton futures took a slump of 17 to 20 points, and spot cotton took a tumble of 20 points.——Since early in July iron has advanced $2.50 on the ton at Birmingham and the market is described as "running away."—Hon. W. J. Bryan will land in New York from Europe at 4 P. M. Saturday, September 30th, and arrangements are complete for the Madison Square reception in his honor; he will dine with the newspaper men at the Waldorf-Astoria, September 7st.—— New York Markets: Money on call strong, 3½ to 6 per cent., ruling rate 5½, closing bid 3, offered at 3½; spot cotton 20 points decline, closing quiet at 9.90; flour steady and unchanged; wheat firm, No. 2 red, 78 elevator; corn firm, No. 2, 57¼ elevator; oats barely steady, mixed 36; turpentine firm, 63½ to 64; rosin quiet.

The insurrection in Cuba may mean the beginning of anexation to the United States.

Says the Durham Herald: "The Wilmington Star is now printing cartoons on its front page. This was as much of a surprise as the funny picture page in the Charlotte Observer." The Star hopes the surprise was an agreeable one. Berryman's cartoons always attract attention.

A Pennsylvania woman threatened to leave her husband and go back to her parents. He bet her $20 she wouldn't do it, but she won his money by going and refusing to return. However, that is no reason why other married men should be going around, trying to pick a bet with their wives.

With Col. Bryan scooping in the endorsements of all the State conventions, the man with Presidential aspirations who would like to give the Nebraskan a tilt for the nomination would be awarded a Carnegie hero medal without having to submit any other evidence.

In behalf of Texas we should explain that there hasn't been any insurrection there, but only an up-rising against an off-color contingent of the United States Army. Furri'ners might be misled into thinking that the Texans had caused the Federal Army to be withdrawn or be jumped upon

The Bryan committee of Maryland has been having a war of its own. It is hard to conceive of anything the members of the committee could fight over unless it is the rough way some people have of acting in the scamble to get a seat on the Bryan band wagon.

In his letter to Congressman Watson, President Roosevelt attributes our prosperity to the Republican party. As the President has to issue a proclamation in November, proclaiming a day of Thanksgiving, he will correct that mistake by calling on us to give thanks to the real author of our blessings.

Before the telegraph and cable lines gave particulars of the disastrous earthquake in Chile, the American newspapers were publishing cuts of wrecked and ruined cities and collapsed buildings. For what the telegraph and cable cannot supply we can always depend upon the more or less accurate but always picturesque imagination of the Yankee artist. The Chilenos can rest assured that we never get left.

MORTON'S PLATFORM

HIS POSITION IS DEFINED

Some of the Things He Will Stand For if Elected to Lower House of Next General Assembly From New Hanover County.

Inasmuch as the position of Dr. N. M. Culbreth on certain matters affecting his candidacy for the Legislature were given in the local columns of this paper yesterday, it is only fair to Col. George L. Morton, his opponent in the approaching primary for the same office, to publish the card below stating the platform upon which he seeks the suffrage of the people at the polls. The card of Col. Morton is as follows:

Mr. Editor—For more than two weeks I have neglected business, politics and everything else save the inherent duty and devotion to a loving mother whose life is fast ebbing away.

And I regret to be forced into print at this time, but the communication of Dr. Culbreth in The Morning Star is so unjust to the voters of the First ward, among whom I have spent my life, and to the Fifth ward, and is so evidently a thrust at me, as I am the only candidate he is opposing, that I feel called upon to reply.

I have been in county politics since 1890 when I helped redeem this county from negro rule, and in which year I was elected the first Democratic representative to the Legislature since the Civil War; and since then I have taken part in very campaign either as a candidate or a worker.

I assert most positively that during all of this time I have never bought a single vote nor have I known of a single one being bought or influenced by the payment of money. In all political campaigns there is need of workers in the campaign and at the polls to issue tickets, etc., and the majority of these in both the First ward and the Fifth ward have been paid for the time lost from their regular avocations at a certain price per day. Poor men cannot afford to lose their time without pay for their services, as they have families depending upon their labor, and from Dr. Culbreth's point of view, poor men would be debarred from active participation in the campaigns.

In the other wards of the city live a richer class of citizens, who give their time to the campaign and the election, but they are in circumstances to afford it, and I dare say that there is as uch patriotism and honor in the First and Fifth wards as any in the city.

I am not seeking to excuse the corrupt use of money in political campaigns, I am as much opposed to that as any man, but I am merely seeking to correct the reflection conveyed by Dr. Culbreth's communication upon lots of good citizens of this city.

I intend, as soon as I can, to make some speeches in the campaign, but until then I want to say that I am in favor of municipal ownership of water works and sewerage, but in favor of a law leaving it to a vote of the people, and at this election I shall provide for a vote on the bond issue and also the election of one commissioner from each mard to handle the money.

I favor separating the races on street cars so that our ladies and children will have the protection they deserve and should have.

I favor more money for schools, so that we can have substantial brick school houses and better schools.

I favor donating the encampment property to the State for the establishment of a Reformatory for Boys and Girls and a "House of Refuge" called for by the constitution, but never yet established.

I favor a law compelling domestic servants to fulfill their contracts.

The pilotage question I consider settled as per the wishes of the business community.

The liquor question I consider settled for this county. I am in favor of local option as per my record in the Legislature.

In other matters I will endeavor to serve all of the people, rich or poor, with fairness and impartiality, as I have done in my former terms of office.

Very respectfully,
GEO. L. MORTON.

Deceived a Blind Man.

Robert Moseley, colored, was placed in jail yesterday on a warrant from Justice Furlong's court, charging him with larceny by trick in that he deceived W. H. Walker, an old and blind colored man, who is a familiar figure about the streets collecting bottles and other junk. Moseley is charged with having secured a dollar from the old man as part payment on a hog which he had obligated to sell to the old man. When Walker went to look for the shoat he was to purchase, Moseley showed him a hog belonging to another party and later, when this became known, it is charged that Moseley refused to return the dollar. He will be given preliminary trial before Justice Furlong to-day at 2 o'clock, being now in jail in default of $50 bond for his appearance.

GUN CLUB TOURNEY VOTED A BIG SUCCESS

Lyon, of Durham, again led the amateurs in the finals of the Inter-State tournament on the grounds of the Wilmington Gun Club yesterday afternoon. His score was 184 out of the ten events of twenty targets each, with Todd, of Charlotte, a close second in a score of 183. The same score by Taylor, of the Winchester Repeating Arms Company, was high for professionals. Sims, of Wilson, was third in the amateur shooting with a score of 181. Boushee, of Wilmington, came next with 179, which was the same made by Storr, of the Peters Cartridge Company, professional class.

In the team shoot, 125 targets, between teams of five from the Charlotte and Wilmington clubs, the Queen City shooters won in an aggregate score of 108 to 96. The Charlotte team was fortunate in having two of the professionals, Mr. Storr and Col. Anthony, on its club list and therefore eligible. The scores in the team shoot were as follows:

PROPOSAL REJECTED

Clarendon Water Works Company Says "Nay, Nay" to Proposition of City to Buy Its Plant for $70,000—Further Action.

The Clarendon Water Works Company respectfully declines the offer of $70,000 by the City of Wilmington for its plant in this city, which it is sought to acquire to be operated after enlargement and improvement as a municipal property. The reply of the company, on the date of the expiration of the offer, was received by Chairman Johnson, of the Water Commission, yesterday morning and it was brief indeed, stating merely that the company respectfully declined the proposition. Chairman Johnson stated last night that he would call a meeting of the Commission in a few days to further consider the situation in view of the rejection of the proposal of the city and that a report and recommendation would probably be made up to be submitted to the Board of Aldermen at its regular meeting for September, which will be on Tuesday, 4th.

The reply, according to members of the Commisison was no disappointment and the future course of events will be watched with interest. Chairman Johnson is understood to be highly in favor of breaking off all negotiations and proceeding at once with the construction of an independent plant. On the other hand, there is a strong sentiment on the Board of Aldermen for appraisement by disinterested experts. It is expected that this will be the fight at the next meeting.

DEPOT FACILITIES

Project For Union Station Between Coast Line and Seaboard in Wilmington Almost Assured—Official Report to This Effect.

At the special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon to consider the hotel proposition, President J. A. Taylor stated just before adjournment and with some gratification that the Traffic Committee had up the matter of union passenger station facilities at Wilmington with the Atlantic Coast Line, the Seaboard Air Line and the North Carolina Corporation Commission and that there was every reason to believe that the improved facilities would be provided at no distant date. He promised a definite report from the Traffic Committee at the next meeting. Mr. Taylor said that the Atlantic Coast Line people were thoroughly agreeable to the proposition, the Seaboard Air Line was not averse and that the Corporation Commission would kindly lend its offices if such were required. The Seaboard, he said, fully recognized the inadequacy of its passenger terminals here and that negotiations with the officials of all the systems were progressing very satisfactorily. The announcement of President Taylor in this regard was received with marked enthusiasm by the business men present.

—Charlotte Chronicle: "Mr. H. C. Irwin returned last night from Wrightsville Beach, after spending a few days with his family there."

THE HOTEL PROJECT

Final Report of Committee at Special Meeting of Chamber of Commerce Yesterday.

MASS-MEETING TO BE HELD

Committee Will Be Named to Promote Attendance—Option on Moore and Hanby Properties Secured Until January 1st.

Final report of the committee recently appointed to develop the movement for a tourist hotel in Wilmington was made at a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon and the committee was discharged with thanks. In tendering its report, the committee recommended that a mass-meeting be held at some future date at which the situation will be more thoroughly canvassed and some definite action be taken, looking to the establishment of the hotel in Wilmington. The recommendation was adopted and a committee was appointed by the president to work up enthusiasm in the meeting and secure a full attendance of all public spirited citizens interested in the movement.

The meeting yesterday afternoon was called to order at 4 o'clock by President Taylor, who stated the object and asked the secretary to read the report of the committee, which was as follows:

Wilmington, N. C., Aug. 22, 1906.

Dear Sir—We, your committee appointed to investigate the question of securing a site and submitting a proposition looking to the securing of a desirable hotel for Wilmington, beg leave to submit the following report:

We have met several times and have given the subject our careful and painstaking consideration.

We have secured legal options at $31,000 on the two lots known as the Moore and Hanby property, fronting on Chesnut street and containing 132 feet frontage on Chesnut street and 195 feet on Second street, excepting a small plot on the northeastern corner, 33x66 feet in size, which space we do not deem essential. Your committee has personally assumed a $200 obligation for this option and the option is good until January 1st, 1907.

We have discussed the question with many citizens and are of the opinion that there is a decided sentiment in favor of poviding a new hotel. At the same time we think it first essential that a hotel company be organized with proper officers authorized to solicit subscriptions to the stock, and that this company be provided with a capital stock of not less than $100,000 before authorizing the commencement of construction work.

We recommend that before proceeding further your body call a meeting of the citizens of Wilmington at your chamber and that opportunity be offered at this meeting for a more general discussion of the project. At this meeting, we think, some assurance of support should be secured before proceeding further.

Your committee is in possession of many communications from builders, architects and others, and is prepared to deliver all data of this character, together with the legal options above referred to, to the hotel company, if organized.

We respectfully submit the above as our final report, and ask to be discharged.

W. A. DICK,
C. N. EVANS,
M. S. WILLARD,
I. M. BEAR,
WALKER TAYLOR,
Committee.

In speaking of the report, President Taylor said that he thought the need of a large, modern hotel here was recognized pretty generally, but those who should be interested in the prop-

TROLLEY CAR AMUCK

Narrow Escape of Thirty-five Passengers on Suburban Line Early Last Night.

CARS SPLIT JUNCTION SWITCH

Runaway Car Took Siding and, Uncontrolled, it Crossed the Square—Stopped on Crest of Steep Incline Leading to River.

Thirty-five passengers, a majority of them ladies and children, had a narrow escape from serious injury in an accident by which a train of two heavy suburban cars, coming in from the beach, split the switch on Princess, near Second street, last night at 9 o'clock, one of the cars side-wiping the other, which remained on the main line, and running out the end of the switch and across Front street. Fortunately, with the timely aid of the street car men and a number of citizens congregated on the corner at that hour, the big car was prevented just in the nick of time from running down the steep, paved incline to the river. The passengers on the car were badly frightened and suffered from nervous shock, one lady having fainted, but no one was injured.

The two cars in the train were No. 27, in front, in charge of Motorman Horne and Conductor Hudson, and No. 37, in charge of Conductor T. J. Baird, the train being controlled by the one motorman in front. As the train reached the switch frog for the turnout at the junction, the front car took the main line all right but the rear one, No. 37, took the siding and tore loose its coupling, the trolley, however, remaining on the wire. Instantly Motorman Horne saw the accident and stopped his car but the runaway curved in on the switch and it being down grade, passed the car at too close quarters on the main line, tearing off the steps of No. 27 as it passed. With the passengers in a panic and crowding to the doors to jump off, the scene was exciting. The car on the siding ran on down to the end at Front and Princess streets, jumped off the rail and ran across the street on the cobble stone. Capt. "Bob" Green headed a score of bystanders who ran to the rear of the car and held back as it crossed the square, at the same time prevailing on the ladies to keep still and avoid the crush. But the most effective work was done by Motorman Lutie Croom, of one of the city cars that had just come up, Conductor Baird and Conductor Hudson, who worked manfully at the hand brakes as the air supply had been cut off when the coupling tore loose. The car was stopped just on the crest of the steep incline to the river and that it was stopped there was exceedingly timely.

Had the city car come down Princess street and been standing on the siding as it usually does, it would have been crushed by the heavier car and would have certainly been sent down the hill with loss of life. As it was, the escape for all on board the suburban car was fortunate indeed. The runaway was soon pulled back on the line by the freight and the schedules were resumed after about an hour. An immense crowd gathered to witness the wreck. The passengers lost no time in emptying the car once it had been stopped.

OPERATION FOR APPEDICITIS.

Rev. J. A. McKaughan, the beloved pastor of Brooklyn Baptist church, this city, underwent an operation for appendicitis at the James Walker Memorial Hospital last night at 10 o'clock. Rev. Mr. McKaughan has been troubled with appendicitis for some time and suffered a rather acute attack yesterday. Dr. J. B. Cranmer, his physician, advised an immediate operation and performed the same with the assistance of Dr. Russell and Dr. Slocum, of the hospital staff, last night as stated. The patient stood the operation well and there are strong hopes for his immediate recovery. It was found that the disease had progressed almost to the last stage, and friends of Mr. McKaughan account him fortunate in having the operation performed as soon as he did. Rev. Dr. Hale, of the First Baptist church, and members of the family were with him at the hospital when the operation was performed.

CARE FOR ERRANT YOUTH AND INSANE.

One of the problems of the age, and a serious one it is, is the care of irresponsible youths who from one cause or another become criminals. Many States have established reformatories to redeem as far as possible such of the young criminals as are susceptible to treatment and handling by experts, and many times The Star has called attention to the emphatic demand for such a humane and saving institution in North Carolina. The need in that connection is not more pronounced here than anywhere else as we may observe from the following editorial from the Richmond Times-Dispatch of Tuesday:

"What has come over the youth of Richmond? Has an epidemic of housebreaking suddenly broken out among them? Only a week ago the community was shocked with the news that two lads of hardly more than knickerbocker age had committed a hold-up and burglary with the melodramatic ease of the finished yeggman. Yesterday brought a similar story of juvenile crime. Three very youthful criminals were taken in the very act of robbing the store of a local merchant. One of them is just nine years old. The other two, young as they are, are at least old enough to realize just what they were doing.

"Defective training seems to be back of the downfall of all these boys. McNeil and Elmore, the two Hanover offenders, have apparently borne good reputations hitherto. They committed the hold-up, according to their own statements, just for the novelty of the thing. Two of the three boys arrested on Sunday, on the other hand, are said to have been in trouble before. Cigarettes and penny dreadfuls have doubtless figured in the previous careers of all of them.

"The coincidence of these two cases is probably not significant, but it is worth noting. Probably very few boys are naturally and instinctively criminal. When they become so, it may usually be taken that something has been radically lacking in their training. Compulsory education is a good corrective of deteriorating influences. A children's aid society, working to the end of removing neglected children from the temptations of the city and establishing them in country homes, is another one. A wisely administered juvenile court could contribute largely to the same good cause. In the eye of the law, children of seven years are considered capable of committing a crime; they are legally punishable, like any other persons; but it is obviously neither wise nor right to treat them as such. The soundest social organism is that which provides the least excuse for anybody to go astray, and the fullest possible opportunity for him to recover his good name, once lost."

The above serves the purpose for the Star to again call attention to the fact that no more pressing subject than a reformatory calls for action by the General Assembly of orth Carolina which convenes next January. We do not except even the urgent necessity for more enlarged asylum facilities for our unfortunate insane, but we should say that the two needs should be given prompt attention and early action by our Legislature. That body could do no greater service to the State than act favorably upon these two problems before it attempts any other legislation.

The people will lose patience if something is not done to provide for North Carolina's unfortunates who are not mentally capable of caring for themselves or whose relatives are not able to care for them and have their condition alleviated by expert treatment. If the Legislature does not do something for the criminal youth of the State, it will be a case of pure neglect.

All honor to the Democrats of Mecklenburg who have taken an emphatic and practical stand in this matter. At the recent Democratic county convention the following was adopted:

"Resolved, That we request our Representatives in the next General Assembly to vote for and do all in their power in an honorable way to increase the appropriation for the several State insane hospitals in the requirements for taking care of our insane.

"Also for the establishing and maintaining a training school or reformatory for our juvenile criminals."

Similar action should have been taken all over the State. It is a big feather in the cap of Mecklenburg.

—W. J. Bryan has sailed and now all of the "pops" and greenbackers and Socialists and unreconstructed Democrats are in a perfect shiver of delightful anticipation over his arrival.—Philadelphia Press (Rep.).

—Secretary Root's tribute to the "incomparable beauty" of the women of Argentina who pelted his tram with flowers was not the language of diplomacy or of gallantry. Travellers agree that the composite feminine type of Argentina is irresistible.—New York Sun.

—According to a New York correspondent, sight-seeing automobile parties have a habit of giving three cheers for Bryan when passing the Democratic committee headquarters. Since his world tour, all the rubbernecks have a fellow-feeling for Mr. Bryan.—Washington Post.

—The burning of 5,000 cans of food and decayed fruits at Chicago the other day was the first official bonfire lighted to celebrate the pure-food victory in legislation. It must be said that it made a good fire, even though the fumes did not add to the purity of the atmosphere of the dumping grounds.—New York Tribune.

—The court at Salsbury, N. C., has sentenced an ex-convict named Hall to the penitentiary for participating in that lynching affair in which three negroes were hanged. Why not get after the men of alleged "high standing" in the community who also took part? The fact is that such mobs are made up of the rif-raf of the community from which people of standing and intelligence keep aloof.—Philadelphia Press (Rep.).

—The ringleader of a lynching mob in North Carolina has been sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment. That is a healthy sign, despite the fact that the man was an ex-convict. It may be freely admitted that the conviction could not have been obtained in a Northern State. So far as we are aware, no one has ever been punished for the offense of engaging in mob practice in the northern tier of States.—San Francisco Chronicle.

—"Pa," said little Willie, looking up from his book, "what are 'gastronomies'?" "Oh—er—lemme see," said pa. "Oh, they're those country jays that blow out the gas."—Philadelphia Ledger.

—"What I regard as most conspicuous about Georgie Gayson," said Mrs. Oldcastle, "is her naivete!" "Yes," replied rer hostess, "I wonder what made her get a red one?"—Modern Society.

—"Still looking for an honest man?" they asked Diogenes. "Not on your life!" shouted the shrewd old fellow. "In these times I'd be satisfied to dig up a fair grade of almost honesty."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

—"Well, well!" exclaimed Mrs. Goodart, "you certainly do act as if you were hungry." "Act?" grunted Hungry Higgins, between bites, "say, lady, don't you know de difference between actin' an' de real ting?"—Philadelphia Press.

—"Ma!" said little Willie, for the tenth time. "Silence, sir," cried his mother. "Didn't I tell you not to interrupt me and Mrs. Gabble? Wait until we're through talking." "But, ma, I want to say this to-day."—Philadelphia Press.

—Hyde Park Orator—I tell you we're degenerating, and the only remedy is to get back to the land and to the food of our ancestors. First Listener—What food does he mean, Bill? Nuts? Second Listener—Naw! thistles!—Ally Sloper.

—"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "you said you knew exactly which horse would win that race." "I thought I did." "Oh, well; accidents will happen. Maybe one of the other horses got frightened and ran away."—Washington Star.

—Confidential Friend—Old man, if you had your life to live over again, would you make it different? Defeated Politician—Yes, in two particulars. Firstly, I'd be a bigger scoundrel. Secondly, I wouldn't take any other man into my confidence.—Chicago Tribune.

—"Married, are you?" laughed his friend, "I thought you were a confirmed old bach." "I thought so, too," replied the doctor, "but I struck a patient with a bad case of heart trouble, and the only way I could cure her was by proposing."—Detroit Free Press.

—"John," said the doctor's wife, "my tongue looks bad this morning. There must be something wrong with me." "Yes?" replied the doctor, "over-worked, perhaps." "But, really, I haven't been working hard." "I didn't say you were over-worked. I referred to your tongue."—Philadelphia Press.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—The Mount Olive Tribune says an overalls and shirt factory is a prospective industry for that town.

—The kinzendorf, Winston-Salem's $150,000 hotel will be completed by October. It has 130 rooms and was built by a stock company.

—Deputy Insurance Commissioner Scott returned to Raleigh on Wednesday from Rowan county. He says he is sure a negro burned the Lyerly barn.

—At Wilkesboro, in the Superior Court on Wednesday Hiram Higgins, who killed his son, Silas Higgins, submitted to murder in the second degree and was sentenced to a term of ten years in the State prison. The old man is 73 years old and in feeble health.

—Clarkton Express: Hon. Joseph A. Brown, of Chadbourn, is not a candidate for the State Senate, and doesn't want it, but we believe that a large majority of the people in the two counties, are in favor of him for that place, and we believe if he was nominated he would accept.

—Raleigh correspondence, Aug. 22: Judge Purnell today made the order of sale in the matter of the Buckhorn Falls Power Co. Of course the buyers will complete this extensive and important plant. To do this and pay the past due interest on the bonds will require a lot of money.

—Raleigh correspondence, Aug. 21: There were very heavy rains in this section last night. There is great need of sunshine, the farmers all say. The deficiency of sunshine this August has been extremely marked. Cotton is now losing ground daily, on high land. On low and sandy land it has suffered greatly. There is plenty of rust and shedding. Many plants have a sickly appearance.

—The T. A. Gillespie Company now developing the Narrows at Whitney, on the Yadkin River, near Salisbury, is advertising for 500 laborers with which to hasten the work. Salisburians who have visited the place recently say that there has been the most marvelous change in recent months and it is the busiest place in the South.

—The Secretary of State at Raleigh on Wednesday chartered the Concord Realty and Railway Company, which is authorized to construct an electric railway from Concord to Charlotte, or to any other point in 50 miles of Concord. It is also authorized to operate gas and electric plants, furnish light, heat and pwer, etc. The capital stock is $125,000 and the stockholders are R. A. Brower, L. A. Brown, J. L. Brown, all three of Concord; C. W. Johnston, Charlotte; E. A. Johnston, of Rock Hill, S. C.

—At Wilkesboro on Tuesday George W. Samuel and John W. Hasty were committed to jail after dark. It will be remembered that this is the celebrated case of Samuel and Hasty, the revenue officers convicted for assaulting Editor R. A. Deal, and sentenced to a term of three and six months respectively, in Wilkes county jail. This case has been held up by Governor Glenn, pending a pardon. He has refused to disturb the verdict of the court and the defendants have just began to serve the sentence of the court.

—Asheville special, Aug. 22.—A man named Elds, from Chattanooga, Tenn., a visitor to Asheville, fell at the Asheville skating ring tonight shortly after 10 o'clock, breaking his neck and dying almost instantly. Mr. Elds with his wife visited the rink tonight. The husband put on the skates and went on the floor while his wife looked on. After skating for some time Mr. Elds leisurely started to where his wife was sitting and, leaning over the railing, talked and laughed with her. Suddenly the man's skates shot forward, he lost his balance, fell backward and, striking the floor, broke his neck. He died in an instant or two.

—Elkin special, Aug. 22: John McBryde, a 13-year-old boy, was dangerously wounded yesterday by the discharge of a gun, the entire load entering the arm and left shoulder, breaking the bone and tearing the muscles fearfully. It seems that the two boys were together and were fooling with the gun when it went off. The wounded boy says that the other boy shot him, while the other boy claims that he shot himself. The truth will probably never be known. Drs. King, Reece and Salmons are with the boy to-day trying to save his life, but have very little hope of doing so.

—Raleigh correspondence, Aug. 22: Everything is now settled as regards the Masonic temple here. Work begins next March. It was originally expected that the building would be ready for use this year. Under the modified plan now decided on the cost of the building itself is reduced from $150,000 to $100,000. It will be 61 by 97 feet, 7 stories high, with a bank and three stores on the ground floor and a roof garden. The site is paid for and cost $36,000. It is learned from the building committee that there will be a $50,000 bond issue of 5 per cent. with mortgage, which the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company takes. All other funds needed except about $15,000 are in hand, having been subscribed by Masons.

—Charlotte Observer, Aug. 23: The Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, will speak in North Carolina on the 11th and 12th of September. He will be at either Salisbury or Statesville, whichever place Mr. E. Spencer Blackburn thinks he can do him the most good, on the 11th and at Asheville, the next day. On the 13th he will speak in Tennessee. These speeches are on the Republican programme for the campaign and will be delivered in what are considered doubtful congressional districts. Mr. Shaw is a very able man and will attract a large crowd wherever he speaks. Judge S. B. Adams, chairman of the Republican State executive committee, has arranged to have a number of speakers address North Carolina audiences between this time and the November election.

—Durham special, Aug. 22: A few days ago W. B. Sorrell, jeweler and optician of Chapel Hill, was arrested on a charge that was serious. Sorrell was arrested on the charge of assault with intent to commit rape. The prosecutrix was Miss Carrie Womble, and the evidence produced in the case was not sufficient in the mind of Mayor Robeson to send the prisoner to court under the charge of attempted criminal assault, but the court decided that it was a very aggravated case of simple assault and the defendant was given all that the law would allow, a fine of $50 and costs. Sorrell has a jewelry store on the main street of Chapel Hill, and is a married man.

—Maxton special, Aug. 21: The death of Mrs. John A. Smith occurred yesterday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. S. McNair, on Railroad street. Mrs. Smith has been confined to her bed for about 18 months. She suffered a stroke of paralysis in February, 1905, and has been a constant but patient sufferer ever since. She was about 75 years of age, and is survived by her husband, Capt. John A. Smith, two sons, Walter and Leak Smith and two daughters, Mrs. W. S. McNair and Mrs. Rodgers. Mrs. Smith was a most estimable lady and was especially popular with the young people, every one of which will mourn her loss. She was a member of the Presbyterian church and the funeral services will be preached by the pastor, Dr. H. G. Hill. The interment will take place at Oakwood cemetery.

—Monroe correspondence, Aug. 21: George Carelock, a very old negro, called at the resilence of Mrs. Sarah Cox, in Lane's Creek township, Sunday morning and told Mrs. Cox that he had come to unburden his conscience of something that had weighed upon it for many years. He told the lady, who is herself 82 years old, that she had made a coat for him back in 1865, which he had never paid her for, and the purpose of his visit was to make settlement there and then. Mrs. Cox said she did not want any payment, but the old darkey insisted on it, saying that his failure to pay had worried him so much lately that he could not stand it any more. It is supposed that old George has been attending a protracted meeting and got religion. Whatever the cause, he has certainly brought forth fruits meet for repentance.

—Asheville special, Aug. 22: Charles R. Evans, of Madison county, has given out a story to the effect that he and a number of other North Carolinians, natives of Buncombe and Madison, were enticed by false promises to McDowell county to work for the South & Western Railway Company, ordered to work under conditions materially different from what they had been promised, that they who refused to work were beaten until they bled, told to leave and keep their mouths shut, and that others were guarded with Winchester rifles to prevent their escape. It is believed that this allegation of fact is precedent to damage suits that will be instituted against the railway company by those who complain of peonage, and that steps have already been taken toward the institution of such suits. According to Evans' story he and 12 other men went to work for the South & Western between Marion and Spruce Pine in February of this year, and that when several of the party attempted to leave the day after they had gone to work they were overtaken and forced to another camp, confined in a house with a guard and whipped. Evans' statement is that Woodfin Wheeler, Chapel Wyatt and Charlie Beeckmen were the three men whipped.

THOMAS EVANS DEAD

Venerable Wilmington Citizen Passed Away Yesterday at His Home in This City—Funeral This Afternoon—Interment in Oakdale.

The Star regrets exceedingly to chronicle this morning the death of one of Wilmington's most venerable and highly esteemed citizens, Mr. Thomas Evans, who passed away yesterday at 11:45 o'clock at his home on North Third street, after an illness of several days. Mr. Evans had reached the advanced age of 85 years and had been in feeble health for some months, yet it was difficult to realize yesterday that one so familiar in the active life of the city for so many years had passed out of the community. In this city and elsewhere the news of Mr. Evans' death will come as a source of sincere regret to many. He was a man of fine character, the soul of honor and integrity and no one in Wilmington enjoyed the greater respect and admiration of his fellow-men.

Mr. Evans was born in Cumberland county, near Fayetteville, on November 26th, 1821, but came to this city as early as 1836 and had been a resident here ever since. In later life he had devoted himself to the practice of his profession, the law, and it is safe to say that there was during his life time no more able marine lawyer on the South Atlantic Coast. His counsel was sought in all important admiralty matters at the port and his rulings were generally sustained in the highest courts of the land. Earlier in life Mr. Evans was a member of the large naval stores firm of J. R. Blossom & Evans, which operated large distilleries on the site now occupied by the Cape Fear Lumber Company. It was Mr. Evans who built the first and only dry dock ever at the port of Wilmington, which was operated with great profit during the palmy days of coastwise shipping here. Later this dry dock was sold to the government of Hayti and was towed from here to Port-au-Prince.

Mr. Evans is survived by his wife and one son, Mr. DeLancey Evans, for many years in the rice milling business in this city, but now rice expert for the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Washington. Mr. Evans was with his father when he passed away. Members of the family have the tenderest sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

The funeral of the late Mr. Evans will be conducted at 5 o'clock this afternoon from the late residence and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

Fomer Resident of Wilmington Back From Porto Rico.

Mr. James Struthers, formerly of Wilmington, now a resident of Bayamon, Porto Rico, arrived in the city Wednesday morning on a visit to his sister, Mrs. J. A. Springer. He has many friends here who are glad to see him and learn of his fine prospects in our tropical colony.

Mr. Struthers is highly pleased with Porto Rico, where he went three years ago. He says the climate is ideal and the island is destined to become the finest fruit country in the world. Already a large colony of Americans have settled at Bayamon and are engaged in fruit culture. All kinds of fruits flourish, but the region is specially adapted to tropical fruits, such as oranges, pineapples, etc. The American colonists are going into the business on a large scale, and thousands of acres are being planted with oranges and pineapples. The first shipment was made to the United States last year, and the grower to make the first shipment was a North Carolinian—Mr. John Wilson, formerly of Goldsboro, who, by the way assisted in building the Wilmington Seacoast Railroad from Wilmington to Wrightsville Beach.

The enterprising American fruit growers have already organized the Bayamon Fruit Growers' Association, and on the 7th of July they had their first annual barbecue, an occasion which must have been an intensely enjoyable one, judging from the bill of fare and programme which Mr. Struthers gave The Star. The luncheon was tempting and numerous questions were discussed by a score of speakers who replied to toasts. A number of Porto Rican gentlemen took part in the programme and responded to toasts.

Mr. Struthers is secretary of the Association. He says the fruit region is in the mountains about five miles from the sea, and that it is as healthful as any in the globe. The temperature, he says, rarely varies more than five or six degrees in Winter or Summer, the lowest since he has been there being 68, and the highest 90 degrees. These temperatures are the extremes.

Waiter Charged With Larceny.

Constable Savage went down to the beach yesterday and arrested Ed. Mosong, a colored waiter at the Hotel Tarrymoore, charged in a warrant from Justice Bornemann's court with the larceny of clothing from another waiter named Sidney Herruite. Herruite suspicioned Mosong some time ago and consulted Justice Bornemann about the matter. The Justice advised that he keep quiet until he caught Mosong with some of the clothing on his person. He was successful yesterday morning and a telephone message brought Constable Savage. Mosong was placed in jail and will be given tiral this morning at 10 o'clock.

osition seemed to be slow in taking hold. President Emerson, of the Atlantic Coast Line, had given every assurance that if the hotel accommodations were provided here, he would give such a schedule to Wilmington as would bring the travel, and it was for the people of Wilmington to take hold of the proposition and carry it though. Mr. Evans, of the committee, offered the suggestion in connection with the calling of the mass-meeting that the president appoint a further committee to work up interest in the matter and secure the attendance of all who might be interested, irrespective of their membership in the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. I. M. Bear suggested that the meeting be held in the Court House at some convenient hour. Mr. Dick spoke of the excellent prospects for the hotel and said that while the price of the property in view might be regarded a little high, it was eminently suited to hotel purposes and could be made well worth the amount named. The motion at length prevailed that the president call a mass-meeting, to be held in the Court House, and that he appoint a committee to promote the attendance of those most likely to be interested. The meeting will be given due notice in the press. The meeting adjourned subject to call of the president.

BOARD OF AUDIT AND FINANCE.

Mr. Editor—Since I have been a candidate for the Legislature I have been frequently asked my position with reference to the present plan of constituting the Board of Audit and Finance for the City of Wilmington. In answer to this question I desire to say that the gentlemen who constitute the present Board of Audit and Finanec are, in my opinion, men of sterling character and have fulfilled the duties of the office well. No doubt they have been a check on the different administrations of the city, but for the Governor to have the power to appoint this Board (for life as I understand it) is depriving our citizens of the right to name their officers, which, in my opinion, is un-Democratic and contrary to good principles of government. I am, therefore, in favor of a change in the law to the effect that the people can name this Board by their ballots.

Very Respectfully,
N. M. CULBRETH.

SITUATION AT VALPARAISO.

Nearly Seven Hundred Victims of Earthquake Buried.

(By Cable to The Morning Star.)

Valparaiso, August 23.—Fernandez Blanco, governor of the province of Valparaiso, has proclaimed the city of Valparaiso in a state of siege, and has conferred supreme authority on navy Captain Gomez Carreno. The prefect of police is charged with the duty of collecting and distributing food. One of the first acts of the military governor was to issue an order that any persons found breaking water mains should be shot.

The total number of corpses buried up to Tuesday, August 21, was 648.

The earthquake was very severe at Concon and Colme. The dead in these places number twenty-five.

Meat and bread are scarce. Meat is now being distributed by the authorities. The grocers' shops that were not destroyed by the earthquake are now nearly out of stock. Canned meats, sardines, condensed milk and biscuits are much needed.

There were pains all over me and I could not tell where they were to strike me. I used liniments and lots of remedies but nothing did me any permanent good until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Bellamy's drug store and used them. They helped me in a very short time and seemed almost to oil up my joints; in fact, I have not had the pains since I used them."

The Kind You Have Always Bought

A Valuable Second

[Original.]

My friend Dawes was as gentle a being as I ever knew. One day he surprised me by making reference to a duel he had once fought in the south.

"You?" I exclaimed. "Do you mean to tell me that you have fought a duel?"

"Once."

"I thought you were opposed to dueling."

"I am. It happened this way: When a young man I lived in Ohio, a state, as you know, which then bordered on slave states. A gentleman from Kentucky, Chester Gay, came across the Ohio river and persuaded me to embark some capital with him in raising blooded stock in the blue grass region. I was pleased with the idea of an open air occupation—I was not in very good health—and accepted his offer. He was twenty years my senior and in every way a fine man. But he was modest and never told me what I learned in time—that he was very nervy. He was afterward killed leading a Confederate regiment at the battle of Shiloh.

"We had stocked our farm and everything was running smoothly when Abraham Lincoln was elected president. The announcement was a signal for an opening of those secession guns that boomed sharply and successively for some months. Gay was opposed to secession, and I would have had no trouble had it not been for a red mouthed man, one of the numerous 'colonels' of the south, called Plummer, who, knowing that I was a northern man, perfectly satisfied with the existing national status, made it his business to drive me out of the state. I learned afterward that he wished to marry a girl I had met and to whom I was becoming much attached. He was a good deal of a gambler, as some of the F. F. K.'s were in those days, and a noted duelist—that is, he had been 'out' a number of times—and was a dead shot.

"I kept my mouth closed as to politics, but that did not save me. One evening in the office room of a hotel Colonel Plummer approached me and fired a number of insulting remarks that called for resentment. I paid no attention to him, for I saw his intention to force me into a fight, but went immediately to Mr. Gay for advice in the matter. He sat thinking for a few minutes, then said quietly:

"'You're one the horns of a dilemma. One horn is that you must give up your interest in our stock farm and this love affair of yours, for you would not be justified in marrying a girl with your reputation smirched as it would be among her associates and her family unless you resent a public insult. The other horn is to challenge Plummer. My advice is for you to challenge him. After that you can leave the state, if you like, with an unsullied reputation.'

"'That is, if I leave it at all. Besides, I am bitterly opposed to dueling.'

"'Oh, I don't think there will be much danger.'

"There was an unfathomable expression on my friend's face. I questioned him further, but could get no satisfactory explanation of his meaning. His wish that I should fight and the belief that a failure to do so would cost me the girl I desired to make my wife decided me. Besides, I didn't like such treatment and was seized with the desire to bore a hole in Plummer. I had never 'been out,' but I was no mean shot with either rifle or pistol. I sent Plummer a challenge through Gay.

"A meeting was arranged to take place in the early morning at a secluded spot on the Kentucky river. I arrived with my friend before the opposing party and I confess felt much depressed, but when the others appeared the sight of my enemy and the remembrance of his abusive language of the night before made me hot. I forgot both my prejudices and the chances of being killed. It had been arranged that we were to fight with Derringers at forty paces and continue till the principals were both satisfied. We took our positions, the seconds withdrawing a little distance and loading the weapons. As soon as they had done this Gay approached me and handed mine to me, while Plummer's second did the same for him.

"It was an unpleasant half minute while I stood there looking at the muzzle of a pistol in the hand of a dead shot. Gay gave the signal, and we fired almost together. I was so certain that I had been hit that I imagined I felt warm blood trickling from my breast. But I stood stock still. There was a most surprised expression on my enemy's face. He had aimed at the center of my body, and yet I was unharmed. He called for another shot. His second tried to dissuade him, but failed, and the pistols were reloaded.

"The next time Plummer fired a second or two after me, and I knew he was taking a deliberate aim. Nevertheless neither of us was touched. This time the look on the colonel's face was more than surprise; it was astonishment. He threw down his weapon and exclaimed:

"'By Geo'ge, gentlemen, I'll neve' fi'e a pistol again. My eyesight must have gone back of me. I've been out a dozen times and neve' missed my man befo.'.'

"The affair was ended, and I was mystified. I had not the confidence in my aim that the colonel had in his, but I had expected at least to wing my enemy. As Gay and I drove away together he said to me, 'I told you there woudn't be much danger.'

"'But how did you know?' I asked.

"He whispered his reply in my ear so that the driver should not hear: 'I told his second that if the pistols were not loaded with blank cartridges he'd have to settle with me. He didn't put in any lead.'" BRUCE PARKER.

Meals In Schools.

In Paris the city government gives every school child one full meal a day. This does not tend to pauperize the children or to lessen the responsibility of the parents, for all those who can afford to pay for the meal are expected to do so. On the other hand, no jealousy or contempt can be felt by the richer children for their starved comrades, for all are supplied with the same metal token, which has to be given up in exchange for the meal. The "cantine scolaire," as this municipal soup kitchen is called, is not confined to Paris. In the provinces the "soupe scolaire," its equivalent, has sent up the school attendance by leaps and bounds. Here, however, instead of paying for their midday meal all those who can possibly do so are encouraged to bring to school their handful of vegetables and the like, and the contributions are all put into the common soup.

Madrid's Throne Room.

The throne room of the royal palace at Madrid is one of the most magnificent in the world. Decorated in red and gold, it contains rock crystal chandeliers, colossal looking glasses of the finest quality, marble tables and priceless porphyry. The ceiling is painted by Tiepolo with the "Majesty of Spain," in illustration of the virtue of the kings and the manliness of the people, who are represented in the different costumes of the provinces. Here the sovereigns of Spain receive on grand occasions when alive and when dead are laid out in state.

Women Sailors.

Women sailors are employed in Denmark, Norway and Finland and are often found to be excellent mariners. In Denmark several women are employed as state officials at sea, and particularly in the pilot service. They go out to meet the incoming ships; they climb nimbly out of their boats; they show their official diploma, and they steer the newcomer safely into the harbor. It is the same in Finland.

NEW CRUISER NORTH CAROLINA

There'll Be Big Time at Newport News When Our Namesake Will Be Launched—North Carolina Will Be There.

(Newport News Times-Herald.)

The Navy Department has approved Saturday, October 6, as the date for the launching of the armored cruiser North Carolina, now on the ways at this shipyard. Already Miss Glenn, the daughter of North Carolina's Governor, has been spoken of as the sponsor following a time-honored custom. The day is one that has been looked forward to by all patriotic sons of the land of tar, pitch and turpentine ever since Virginians proudly and with glad acclaim consigned the battleship Virginia to the waters of the deep on April 5, 1904. Virginia sent 50,000 people here to witness the past event, many coming from remote parts of the Old Dominion. Patriotism laughs at distances and all who came agreed that the sight they witnessed was well worth the trouble. North Carolina looked on enviously, but patiently, knowing well that her day would come and October 6 is the day. As loyal-hearted Virginians came on April 5, 1905, so will the staunch and true Down-Hofers come on October 6. The city and State should unite to give a royal reception to the people of the sister State.

We believe that the native sons of North Carolina who have made their homes on the soil of old Virginia will heartily endorse this suggestion. Newport News has a young and energetic North Carolinian for its mayor, who will probably welcome this opportunity to extend the glad hand of Virginia hospitality to the people of his home State.

How to Use Brains.

A head man in a manufactory was watching a drayman tugging at a heavy case one day. The drayman's face was red, and the muscles of his neck were bulging. The overseer, says a writer in the Baltimore Sun, thought it was the right moment to offer practical assistance.

"Wait a minute there," he said. "Let me show you how easy it is when you use a little brain with your muscle." And he grabbed a hook, stuck it into the case, gave a yank and went sprawling into the gutter under the dray. He got up, looked at the hook and said, "Confound it, the handle comes off!"

"Yes, sir," said the drayman respectfully. "My brain told me that, and I didn't use it."

THE RECEPTION TO WM. J. BRYAN

Each Delegation Will Be Taken Care Of By Ushers From Its Own Membership—Bryan's Celebrity in Europe.

(New York Herald.)

In order to prevent confusion among visiting delegates in Madison Square Garden on the night of the reception to Mr. Bryan, the committee in charge of the arrangements for seating those who desire to attend the reception from cities, has decided to appoint one or two ushers from each delegation to look after the members of the party of which they are members.

L. Victor Baughman and Murray Vandiveer, of Baltimore, called at the headquarters of the committee yesterday and obtained seats for a delegation of 150 Democrats from Baltimore. This delegation will be entirely independent of the regular delegation of 160 Democrats representing the State of Maryland.

E. A. Halsey, who spent considerable time with Mr. Bryan while in Europe, told of an incident in London, when several women interrupted Mr. Bryan while he was writing a letter, explaining that they desired to "obtain a glimpse of the next President of the United States."

"Mr. Bryan replied at once," said Mr. Halsey, "Ladies, my advise to you is to meet as many American men as possible in the next two years for that will afford you a much better chance of seeing the next President.'"

Franklin Murphy, national Republican committeeman, from New Jersey, who arrived in this city from Europe yesterday, does not take the present popularity of Mr. Bryan seriously.

"While in Europe Mr. Bryan was a remarkably advertised man," added Mr. Murphy, "and I haven' the slightest doubt that if he should consent to run he could be elected President of Russia. But I do not think he wants the place."

THE PLANET URANUS.

Oddities a Voyage to This Gigantic World Would Disclose.

If Uranus, which is a star of about the sixth magnitude, were a planet like those little ones called asteroids, which are being discovered by the dozen every year, it could not have much claim upon popular attention, but Uranus is really a gigantic world, more than sixty times as large as ours. Its vast distance, about 1,700,000,000 miles from the earth, is what causes it to look so small. Uranus has four moons, which revolve backward in their orbits—that is to say, they revolve from east to west around Uranus, while Uranus goes, like all the other planets, from west to east around the sun. It is believed that Uranus rotates backward on its axis also. Moreover, the axis of that great, strange globe lies in such a direction that in the course of its year, which is equal to eighty-four of our years, the sun shines almost perpendicularly first upon one pole and then upon the other. Measured by our time standard, there are forty years of constant daylight, followed by forty years of unbroken night, around the poles of Uranus. And the sun rises in the west and sets in the east there. But the sun looks very small when viewed from Uranus—only one four-hundredth as large as it appears to us. Still it sheds upon that planet 1,500 times as much light as the full moon sends to the earth, so that daylight upon Uranus, while faint compared with the blaze of a terrestrial noonday, is nevertheless a very respectable kind of illumination.

CAKE AN OLD INSTITUTION.

The Ancients Made and Ate It, but It Was a Simple Affair.

The ancients made cake, but it was not the rich, highly seasoned and flavored confection which we indulge in nowadays. They had plain cakes made with flour and water, some of them without a suspicion of sweet or flavor. Some of them were not unlike our plainest crackers and were often eaten as we eat bread.

Wedding cake was an institution among them, as with us, but the cake was a plain one and was broken above the head of the bride as she went to her new home. This was a special feature of Roman marriages 2,000 years ago. The breaking of the cake was part of a solemn ceremony. All of the cakes of ancient history are plain and simple. It is only as we come down to more modern times that we hear of spices and fruits and all of the rich and luxurious ingredients in which present day cakemakers delight. In Queen Elizabeth's time spice cakes and buns were eaten at weddings. From these the fashion and fancy grew for all sorts of elaborate and deliciously unwholesome combinations until there seems to be a perpetual struggle for something new and more unusual to stir into the cake of the period.

One Redeeming Feature.

"What an idiot Stevens is, isn't he?"

"Yes, but he has one redeeming quality—he's always telling you how well you look."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, August 23.—The cotton market was weak and unsettled to-day. For the first hour or so business was very active, but later became comparatively quiet, and fluctuations were narrow after the initial break. The close was steady at a decline of two points on average, but generally 17 to 20 points net lower. Sales were estimated at 400,000 bales.

The market opened weak at a decline of 6 to 21 points, with bear months selling at new low records for the season and the new crop months generally showing a net decline of 19 to 23 points inside of the first few minutes. This break was due to much lower Liverpool cables than expected rumors of weakness in the spot department owing to increased offerings from the Southwest and the liquidation of recent buyers for a reaction. At the decline to 8.82 for October and 8.96 for December there was active covering of shorts which served to check the decline, but no rallying power of consequence developed in the absence of bull support, and after a recovery of five or six points, the market ruled irregular. The close was only 2 or 3 points up from the lowest on the active months.

Private cables from Liverpool reported realizing by longs and increased offerings of actual. Southern spot markets were unchanged to 3-16 per cent. lower and Houston reported sales of 6,000 at a decline of 1-16c. Savannah wires claimed moderate offerings with exporters in the market. Weather reports showed rather heavy rains in parts of the eastern belt, but were considered generally favorable.

Receipts of cotton at the ports to-day were 10,000 bales against 4,899 last week and 11,261 last year. For the week 42,000 bales against 31,193 bales last week and 53,002 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 419 bales against 1,877 last year, and at Houston 4,493 against 4,885 last year.

THIRD LYNCHING WITHIN TEN DAYS

TAKEN AWAY FROM SHERIFF

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Columbia, S. C., August 23.—Willie Spain, a North Carolina negro, twenty years old, was hanged to a tree and shot to death by a mob near St. George, Dorchester county, this afternoon. At least 500 bullets pierced his body. This is the third lynching in South Carolina within ten days.

S. L. Connor, manager of the Dorchester Lumber Company's stores at Badham, was notified by a negro that he saw another negro attempting to enter a window of his home and then run arway into a nearby cane patch. Connor immediately started for his run away into a nearby cane patch. He suddenly came upon Spain. He grappled with the negro, striking him a severe blow, breaking several bones in his hand. The negro finally freed himself and ran into nearby woods. Connor notified his neighbors and a search was begun.

About two hours later Spain was captured in a negro cabin not far distant. He was brought to St. George and turned over to Sheriff Limehouse, who locked him up in jail. Shortly afterwards a posse of forty or fifty men went to the sheriff and demanded the keys of the jail. Securing the keys the jail was unlocked and the negro taken to the house of Connor, where his eleven-year-old daughter, who was alone in the house, positively identified the negro as the one who tried to climb through the window, but was frightened by her screams.

The negro did not protest his innocence, but admitted that he had gone to the residence with the intention of entering it, but for what purpose he did not say.

The mob then took him to a nearby oak tree, strung him up to a limb and shot him to death. The negro's head and body were shot literally to pieces.

After the sheriff had surrendered to the mob he telegraphed Governor Heyward of what had happened. The Governor at once wired the officer to use all means to prevent a lynching, but it was too late as the mob lost no time in despatching the negro.

After finishing its work the mob dispersed and all is quiet at the scene of lynching.

THE BUCKET SHOP COLLAPSE.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York ,Aug. 23.—William H. Beverty, formerly chief clerk in the employ of the concern was appointed assignee today of the suspended stock commission house of M. J. Sage & Co. which had its principal offices in Jersey City with branches throughout the country. Mr. Beverty stated that in checking over the acounts he found liabilities to be about $330,000 with assets of $116,000. He also said he had filed a bond of $300,000 with the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company of Maryland as surety. All assets are to be delivered jointly to Mr. Beverty and the Guaranty Company

It has been reported that "Al." Adams, the former policy king, was interested in the suspended firm. His son, Albert J. Adams, Jr., today said that his father had no interest whatever in the corporation of M. J. Sage and Company. He, the son said, was the only Al. Adams interested in any way in the concern and that it was solely that of a creditor. He was the largest creditor and chief loser, he declared.

GHASTLY WORK OF HEAVY RAIN

Cemetery Flooded and 200 Bodies Exposed to View.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Kansas City, August 23.—The washing out of graves at Elmwood cemetery by torrential rains today exposed nearly two hundred bodies to view. The cemetery grounds which are five miles from the business center of the city, were flooded. Monuments toppled over and other damage was done. Much damage was done in the country districts. In the city 5.93 inches of water fell in three and a half hours, a record for that length of time. The police and fire departments rescued many persons from basements in the north end of the town and in the east and west bottoms, where the water entered many small houses. At Kansas City, Kan., and at Armourdale and Argentine, Kas., across the line from here, much damage was suffered by railroads, wholesale houses and packing houses, and several families had to be taken from their homes by firemen.

REBELLION IS RIFE IN CUBAN REPUBLIC

United States Not Asked for Artillery and Men. Havanna Government Despatching Troops Against Insurgents.

(By Cable to The Morning Star.)

Havana, August 23.—That the government is prepared to adopt all possible measures for the suppression of the insurrection is shown by the request sent to the Washington government tonight for the loan of eight rapid fire guns manned by American artillerymen for use in quelling the existing disorders. It is not admitted that this is equivalent to a call for intervention under the terms of the Platt amendment and, indeed, intervention is regarded by the press and public as a remote possibility, the claim being made that all indications point to the speedy restoration of order through the medium of the constituted authorities of the Cuban republic.

The killing of the insurrectionary leader, General Bandera, today in an engagement between rural guards and a band of his followers, is regarded as dealing the insurrection a heavy blow. The government is acting with energy in sending rural guards and volunteers against the Santa Clara rebels and in despatching 150 more men to defend Pinar Del io against Pino Guerra. The capture of San Juam de Martinez by Guerra's band was not a great surprise though it was not expected to occur so soon. The place was protected by a very small detachment of rural guards, while Guerra's strength was much greater. The taking of Pinar del io will be quite another matter since there are in the vicinity twice as many troops as the insurgent Pino Guerra can muster. It is regarded as more than probable that the troops will take the offensive and if possible draw Guerra into an open fight.

While government reinforcements are going forward Guerra's following is not believed to have been greatly augmented by his occupancy of the two Vuelta Abajo towns.

Public opinion appears to vary according to locality, from enthusiastic adherence to the government to open rebellion. In this city the general attitude is one of locality. The opposition and independent newspapers discuss with analytical coldness the cry that if the government is not able to quelch the insurrection within two months other forceful means must be employed for the restoration of peace. There are no ringing calls to arms. The moderate newspapers print with approval the resolutions declaring adhesion to the government by their party organizations but there has been nothing which could be fairly described as a general rally cry of the people in defense of the government.

Negro General Killed.

Havana, August 23.—General Quintin Bandera, the famous negro leader of Havana Province, who recently headed an insurgent band and began operations against the government, was killed early this morning in an encounter with rural guards.

Bandera was about 60 years old. He took part in the ten years war, as well as in the war for Cuban independence. He was well known in every province of Cuba and had great influence with the colored people. When in Havana Bandera was in the habit of gathering crowds of negroes about him and making speeches to them on the ingratitude of republics. On one occasion he went to the Senate chamber and delivered a violent speech criticising the government for not giving him an office. Soon afterwards he was appointed doorkeeper of the House of Parliament. The position which Bandera aspired to was that of chief of police.

Bodies Mutilated.

Havana, August 23.—The body of the negro General Quentin Bandera, the most daring insurgent in Havana Province, laid in the morgue at Havana today flanked by those of two mulatto comrades, all frightfully gashed by the long, heavy machetes of the rural guards who ended their career. Across the street, in Neptune Park a great crowd, mostly negro friends of Bandera, watched the morgue with silent interest.

The arrival of Bandera's body here was the first news of the fight in which he met his death. The conflict occurred at the Silveira farm, near Punta Brava, 15 miles from Havana. A detachment of 38 mounted rural guards, under Captain Ignacio Del-Gado and Lieutenant Martinez, were searching throughout the night for Bandera's party. At 2 o'clock this morning, the guards were breaking through a wire fence at the edge of the Silveira farm when they were suddenly fired upon by Bandera's followers, twenty in number. The guards rushed upon the insurgents but with the chief and his two companions a special object of attack and all three received several bullet wounds and were horribly mutilated by machete cuts. Not one of the guards was wounded. The bodies of Bandera and his companions were placed in a wagon and taken to Havana. An examination of Bandera's body showed that his principal wound was a severe machete blow on the head, which cut off his left ear and made an ugly incision in his face. He also had bullet wounds in his arms and breast. The condition of Bandera's two dead companions was even more shocking. Their faces and heads were terribly gashed and they also had machete wounds in their breasts and on their arms. The clothes of all three men showed every evidence of the hard life which they had been leading while eluding their pursuers. It is believed the insurrectionary movement in west-Havana has been broken up by Bandera's death.

The non arrival here of Gen. Jose Miguel Gomez, who was arrested August 21 at his home in Sancti Spiritus, is explained by the fact that the prisoner was transferred at Cienfuegos to a steamer bound for Batabano and that he will be brought from Batabano to this city.

Secretary of State and Justice O'Farrell, acting Minister of the Interior, definitely resigned from the cabinet today. General Freyre Andrade, Speaker of the House, and former Secretary of the Interior, is slated for the Interior port folio temporarily. General Andrade is one of the most vigorous supporters of the government.

Insurgents Capture Another Town.

Havana, August 23.—The insurgent forces commanded by Pino Guerra, have captured San Juan de Martinez, the terminus of the western railroad and have occupied the town and railroad station. There was no bloodshed, according to the reports just received. The small forces of rural guards which held the town fled at the approach of the insurgents.

Another train load of troops was sent from this city westward today, bound for Pinar del Rio from which base they will assist in the movements against the insurgents who are occupying San Luis and San Juan de Martinez.

A force of rural guards and volunteers has left Cienfuegos, Province of Santa Clara, to engage 300 insurgents who left Las La Jas under the command of Colonel Guzman, mayor of that town.

No Trouble In Santiago.

Santiago, Cuba, August 23.—There has been no insurrectionary outbreak in this city or province, but many alarming reports are current. Business here is suffering on account of disturbed condition of the country.

American Aid Asked.

Havana, August 23.—The Cuban government has asked the United States that eight rapid fire guns manned by American artillerymen be sent to this island to asisst in subduing the insurrection.

Washington, August 23.—Inquiries were made of State and War Department officials and at the Cuban legation tonight, but up to a late hour none had been advised of any request upon this government by the Cuban government for light rapid fire guns maned by American artillerymen.

Revolution of Grave Proportions.

Tampa, Fla., August 23.—A private cablegram today from one of the largest exporting firms in Havana to its correspondents here says the revolution in Cuba is assuming grave proportions. The information has created much alarm here and it is noticed that all ships arriving from Havana are crowded with shipments of tobacco indicating that importers here feel great anxiety and are getting as much tobacco out of Cuba as possible before it may be impossible to bring shipments out of any Cuban ports.

No Aid is Asked.

Havana, August 23.—Font Sterling, secretary of the Treasury, late tonight cleared up in a statement to the Asociated Press of a misleading announcement made at the palace tonight to the effect that the Cuban government had asked the United States for eight rapid fire guns manned by American artillerymen to be used in the supression of the insurrection. The facts, according to the secretary, are that the government has ordered from the American arms manufacturing company four guns and these pieces will be manned by former members of the artillery branch of the American army now here. If these guns prove to be effective four or more additional guns will be ordered, and it is expected that experienced gunners can be procured in the United States to man them. The United had not been asked ot do anything in the premises.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, August 23.—S. F. "The object of the meeting was, primarily, to consider the recent changes made in the act of regulate commerce, approved June 29th, 1906. "Resolved, That, now having answered to the best of our ability, with the lights before us and with our opportunities for consideration, the questions which have been submitted to us relating to the practical operations of the carriers, we commend this law to the iair and loyal observance of the carriers in a spirit of full and frank recognition of its spirit and purpose."

Continuing Mr. Parrott says:

"On the 22nd day of August, 1906, the convention of the executive and traffic officials reconvened at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, when they received the report from the law committee, above referred to and adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, That this convention return its thanks to the law committee for the labor bestowed by said committee upon the question heretofore propounded to it by this convention, and that, aided by the advice contained in the report of said law committee, the executive and traffic officials here present will, in the administration of the properties confided by their management, use their best endeavors to comply to the fullest extent with all the provisions of the act to regulate commerce as amended June 29, 1906."
